Allegro School of Dance Pointe Contract

(These are the guidelines that all pointe dancers must commit to)

- Dancers must attend ballet technique class two times a week while a pointe dancer.
- Dancers must call if they will be missing a class and plan a make up time.
- If a dancer's class commitment is interrupted by two consecutive days they have to take two consecutive days off from pointe.
- During sports seasons and other busy times dancers may substitute any class for their 2x a week.
- Dancers need to attend at least 4 camps or 15 classes during the summer either at Allegro or other approved dance program. This will keep dancers conditioned and healthy and prevent tendonitis, bursitis, and ligament and tendon damage.
- Dancers should make a strong commitment to attend at least 1 Montana Dance and Arts Association workshop a year.
- Dancers and their families should actively help Allegro Dance Spirit with their Butter Braid fundraiser.
- Dancers need to let me know about all their dance activities outside Allegro. I need to be aware of classes they take, performances they are participating in or workshops they attend.
- All dancers should have a dance kit, dyna band and dance notebook in their dance bag.
- Dancers cannot perform on pointe for approximately 1 ½ - 2 years after receiving their pointe shoes. I need to feel confident that they will be safe on stage. A dancer must get my approval before dancing on pointe for someone else.
- Dancers cannot take a pointe class from another instructor without my prior approval. I move my dancers slowly to avoid overuse injuries that can become chronic. Therefore a dancer may not be at a level that will be expected in some classes.
- Students must have the ability to communicate with me. I expect dancers to share their needs and concerns with me. Parents need to encourage their dancer to address problems immediately before it builds tension.
- Parents and students must trust my decisions for a dancer's progress and come to me with any concerns or problems.
- Students should be discouraged from comparing their progress with another dancer and work on their own goals for success.
- Gossiping about Allegro or other dancers hurts morale and can destroy a good organization. It will not be tolerated. I expect my dancer to show the utmost respect for me and for each other. If there is a problem between two dancers or a dancer and myself we need to sit down and address the problem quickly and respectfully.
- Students need to be aware that pointe work is hard and often times frustrating – but it has enormous rewards. Dancing on pointe is a unique and elite experience. It takes years of commitments and hard work and is a huge accomplishment. I hope that my dancers feel a great amount of pride. This is why a pair of pointe shoes should be treated with utmost respect. They should be cared for and stored as you would a prize possession. It is also why you should take your pointe education seriously. I will not risk any dancer's safety just to make the parent or child happy so that they stay at Allegro School of Dance.
- I want my dancers to know that I am proud of them no matter how their pointe experience turns out. I have dancers who have started pointe training and found it wasn't for them. They continued their dance training without the pointe work. It will never hurt a dancer's chances of getting solos roles or dancing with other pointe dancers. Dance is an incredible gift to the body and soul and I will help in any way to make sure it stays in your life.

POINTE SHOE INFORMATION

This information gives parents and students an idea of the commitments and requirements that need to be met in order to dance on pointe. Hopefully it will help with you and your dancers decision to go on pointe.

POINTE GUIDELINES

- Dancers must be 11 years old to get their pointe shoes.
- Students need to commit to 2 classes a week to start pre- pointe
- Students need to maintain at least 2 classes a week to stay on pointe.
- Students need to have taken a pre-pointe workshop 1 year prior to getting their pointe shoes. They will receive their pre-pointe notebook at this time.
- Dyna-band exercises learned at the pre-pointe workshop need to be done regularly.
- Dancers need to attend summer classes to keep their progress on track and body strong. (Pointe need 15 classes a summer/ Pre-pointe need 12 classes)
- Dancers need to have good body placement awareness.
- Dancers need to work independently in class without watching or depending on other dancers.
- Dancers need to be willing to be first in line and show leadership during class.
- Dancers need to know the positions of the body. (They are included in your pre-pointe workbook)
- Dancers need to be able to pick up combinations quickly and recover easily when mistakes are made. This will maintain their safety on pointe.
- Dancers will need to exhibit certain physical readiness:
These are listed in the pre-pointe notebook.
- Students must have the ability to communicate with me. Pointe work is hard and at times frustrating. Dancers must be able to share their needs and concerns with me.
- Parents and students must trust me, and my decisions, and feel comfortable approaching me on any matter.
- Dancers must write me a short essay. This essay must be written one year before getting their pointe shoes.
Guidelines for the essay are in the pre-pointe notebook

The enclosed lists are guidelines. Please keep in mind that I will treat each dancer as an individual. I promise that I will be fair and honest and I will be more than willing to discuss any problems you have with my decisions or goals. I want my dancers to succeed and will give them tools to make this happen.

CLASS DESCRIPTIONS

Creative Movement – The creative movement program at Allegro School of Dance is designed with the whole child in mind. We focus on the growth and development of the child using creative skills, dance skills, and fine and gross motor skills. Instrumental music is used throughout the class and the basic dance skills taught are ballet based. Children 3-5 years of age will gain large and fine motor skills, body awareness and spatial awareness which will enhance math and reading readiness while having fun in a positive nurturing environment. Stories are used to enhance a child's creative awareness as well as time for creative "free" dance at the end of each class. Each month we work on large and fine motor skills using a variety of fun "toys" such as hula hoops, trampoline, scatter scotch, parachute and balls. Children learn a variety of dance steps that are age appropriate and prepare them for pre-ballet classes. They learn simple dances to nursery rhymes which help with rhythm, patterns and combinations. Children in the creative movement program do not have a dress code. They are encouraged to be creative with their attire and express their individuality with their outfits. Creative movement students are invited to perform in the spring performance in May.

Pre-ballet – The pre-ballet program at Allegro School of Dance expands on many of the skills already learned during the creative movement program. All activities are based on the developmental readiness of the kindergartener and first grader and previous dance experience is not necessary. In the pre-ballet program more emphasis is placed on the ballet skills needed to continue onto classical ballet training. Children begin learning dance etiquette, class structure and technique. Although students in the pre-ballet program are still encouraged to be creative in their dance wear, it becomes more important that they wear snug clothing with their hair pulled back so that their movements are not inhibited by their attire. Pre-ballet students are invited to participate in the spring performance in May.

Beginning Ballet – Students start beginning ballet at Allegro School of Dance in 2nd grade. Students learn all the basic ballet movements throughout their 3 years in the beginning ballet program. By beginning III dancers have a very strong dance vocabulary and the ability to put together complex dance patterns and combinations. Beginning ballet students are asked to wear solid colored leotards, tights, ballet shoes and their hair must be pulled back. Skirts & snug dance shorts are allowed. Once a dancer has reached the beginning ballet program they are invited to participate in our November performance as well as our spring performance. Although the spring performance preparations happen during class – the November performance requires Saturday rehearsals beginning in September. Students must sign up for the November performance in September and be prepared for 6-8 weeks of Saturday rehearsals.

Intermediate Ballet – Once a dancer has reached the Intermediate 1 program at Allegro School of Dance they have a solid dance vocabulary, the ability to put together dance combinations and performances and have a strong understanding of dance etiquette. They will have learned all of their ballet barre exercises and spend more time in their center work and across the floor work. They will be invited to attend Montana Dance and Arts Association workshops once they turn 10 and will have the opportunity to begin their pre-pointe training. Most dancers will have received their pointe shoes by the time they are in Intermediate II or III depending on the schedule they set for themselves. As dancers enter the Intermediate level they begin learning how ballet relates to life and the importance of setting goals and making healthy commitments. At Allegro we encourage dancers to be involved in a variety of other activities in their lives and we strive to help our dancers strike a healthy balance between family, dance, school and life. Dancers must come to class prepared with appropriate dance attire. They are expected to wear a dance leotard, tights and ballet shoes with their hair pulled back. Skirts are optional and tight knit dance shorts are permissible. Boxer shorts, baggy shirts and sweats are not appropriate for dance class. Students in the intermediate level are encouraged to participate in the Montana Dance and Arts Association workshops, our Spring and November performance, and Allegro Dance Spirit.

Advanced Ballet – Once a dancer has reached the advanced level at Allegro School of Dance they are strongly encouraged to take a leadership role within the school. They are taught the importance of being a positive role model, setting a good example in their work ethic, commitment, healthy body image and teamwork. At this level it is very important that they learn the effects their attitude and actions have on their classmates, teachers and progress. They are encouraged to explore their strengths in dance by having opportunities to teach, choreograph and perform more extensively. They are encouraged to take a more committed role in their progress and setting goals to accomplish their dreams. Dancers do not need to be naturally gifted, or be blessed with the perfect dance body to play a major role at Allegro, they simply have to be a strong leader, a team player and have a positive attitude. Advanced dancers are expected to set a good role model by wearing appropriate dance attire, participate in performances, attend MDAA workshops, participate in Allegro Dance Spirit activities and communicate with the teachers and students at Allegro in a positive and respectful manner.

Visions in Motion – Visions in Motion is a class designed for the developmentally disabled dancer. Dancers of all ages are taught creative skills, ballet skills and motor development. They learn ballet barre exercises, jumps, turns and a large ballet vocabulary. Visions dancers are invited to participate in the November and spring performances and do not have a dress code.
